Dear Creditor,

Effective October 15, 2002, Cirrex Corp. will cease business operations and will begin a wind down and liquidation process. The inability to raise sufficient capital in the current turbulent economy has placed Cirrex in a situation whereby it can no longer sustain operations. Cirrex is, and has been, in discussions with various potential financial prospects and potential acquirers over the past few months, but to date none have yielded the financing or capital needed to continue operations.

The Cirrex Board of Directors intends to continue to explore opportunities to sell the company or its assets with a view to maximizing funds available to meet the Company's obligations due to creditors. This process will be completed as soon as practical.

Two of Cirrex's lenders, GATX and Transamerica, assert a security interest (lien) in essentially all the Company's hard assets and intellectual property, which means it appears highly unlikely that there will be any payments to unsecured creditors. Should circumstances change such that there are sufficient funds to make payment to unsecured creditors, you will be contacted.

Thank you for your understanding. Cirrex hopes to bring this matter to a timely conclusion.

Sincerely,
